ROMULUS HIGH BAND — Members of the Romulus Senior High School Band caught by our cameraman in a marching drill prior to Romulus-Inkster High Schools' football game. Note their snappy uniforms.

Mrs. James Petre named to head PTA council

Mrs. James (Fran) Petre has been selected to head the Romulus Area PTA Council for the 1970 school year of council activity.

Due to the resignation of Mrs. Judy Gruber, who will be leaving the community, Mrs. Petre was elected by the acclamation of the Council Executive Board at their meeting last Thursday.

Mrs. Petre headed Cory Elementary School's PTA through two very active and successful terms that saw the beginnings of several important programs.

The Latin American school partnership program with the Peace Corps was begun during her administration.

Sculptured pieces and benches were another project initiated by the PTA during Mrs. Petre's years of leadership.

She was area council secretary in 1968 and has served on many committees and projects benefiting the school district. She was a member of the planning committee for the new Merriman School; has taken leadership roles in recent campaigns for millage and is now a member of the Community School Continuing Education Committee.

In addition to her many interests in school affairs,

Mrs. Petre manages to keep up with her four active children, Lynn, James Jr., Tommy and Carey and supports them in their activities.

Her husband, Jim, is active in Cub Scouting and enlists her help in their projects.

The family lives on an acreage on Cogswell Rd., that includes several horses and other small livestock.

An accomplished painter, Mrs. Petre finds little time to exercise her artistic talents except when a project demands posters or signs, as in Cory's recent fiesta when she designed posters and billboards advertising the event.

Assisting in area council activities this year will be: Mrs. Betty Hill, vice president, Mrs. Joy Lamberson, secretary, Mrs. Gloria Chanoler, treasurer, and Mrs. Mary Ann Treder, Historian.

The first council meeting will be at the Board of Education office, 36540 Grant Rd., on Sept. 29, at 7:30 p.m.

Romulus High band at EMU

The Romulus Senior High School Band will participate in the Eastern Michigan University's Homecoming Game scheduled Oct. 3. Gideon Pitway Jr., band director, announced Monday. It is the second time that the band has been invited to participate.

Besides performing before spectators at home games, Pitway said that he hopes that the Romulus High Band will be able to play and march at away games that are scheduled for the team.

Residents protest city police talks

By HENRY CANTIN

The possibility of Romulus city administration approving the adoption of Contractual Law Enforcement for the city of Romulus has stirred up a considerable number of Romulus citizens. It has become a "controversial and involved issue" among residential groups.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and members of City Council have and are still holding discussions on Contractual Law Enforcement for Romulus with law enforcement agencies.

During the last several weeks these discussions have been with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department representative that currently supplies "courtesy" service to the city.

Sheriff's Department representative, A. Frans Heideman, director, Executive Division, of the department, and under sheriff Loren Pittman have been detailing various phases of a contract for law enforcement between the city and sheriff's department to Romulus officials.

Romulus is currently being served by its own Romulus Police Department of less than 10 men with occasional assistance from both the county sheriff and State Police.

Present members of the city's police department are members of the Romulus Police Officers Association and are working on the final year of a two-year employment contract which expires this July.

Negotiations on wage provisions on the contract have been held but no decisions have been made.

The sheriff's office in its proposed contract offers a staff of 18 men, who will be stationed in Romulus and work around the clock. They will be supported by the entire 500-member sheriff's department along with its modern technical equipment and services.

Present police officers in the city will be given an opportunity to transfer to the sheriff's department and serve in other units of the county police agency.

Despite the fact that Mayor Carmichael has stated that no official decision has yet been made and when all details are investigated and minutely

HMCA requests hike on Nov. 3 ballot

The proposal to increase the revenue of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority through an increase in the property tax millage so that the authority can become responsible for the management and future development of Belle Isle Park will not be on the ballot for the Nov. 3 election. David O. Laidlaw, director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, a regional park agency serving the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne, announced.

The citizens of the city of Detroit gave permission for the authority to lease Belle Isle Park in the primary election of Aug. 4, by a 55 per cent majority of the total vote.

Laidlaw pointed out that the next step is for the legislature to amend the authority's "Enabling Act" permitting an additional 1/4 mill and call for a referendum within the five counties comprising the HCMA metropolitan park district.

He said that this vote probably would not occur until the next general election. Laidlaw added that the proposal to increase the tax revenues of the authority is necessary not only for the management and future development of Belle Isle, but also to develop several other new regional parks which are needed throughout the five-county district.

The authority's long range program for new developments will be presented to the people of the district prior to a millage referendum.

The authority has used its present 1/4 mill revenues to develop a system of nine regional parks covering 11,825 acres in the five-county area and is presently acquiring and developing two future sites.

The HCMA parks include Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens (550 acres); Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica (3,500 acres); Marshbank Metropolitan Park southwest of Pontiac (115 acres); Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford (4,300 acres); Dehi (45 acres); Dexter-Huron (115 acres) and Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park (700 acres), each located northwest of Ann Arbor.

Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville (1,000 acres); and Willow Metropolitan Park between New Hudson and Flat Rock (1,500 acres).

Willow Park only offers limited use since expansion of its facilities will continue in 1971-72.

Recount total doesn't change

Vote totals of John N. Sabo, Jr., a Taylor, barber, and incumbent Wayne County Commissioner from the 24th District, Edmund Bizik, Democratic opponents in the Aug. 4 primary election, remained as originally reported by election workers, a recount of vote tabulations last Friday showed.

Bizik sought a recount of votes in 19 of the 24th District's 65 precincts, including one computer precinct in Dearborn Heights.

The Wayne County Board of Canvassers conducted the recount in the 34th District Court of District Court Judge James B. Stone in Romulus.

A vote total of 2,845 received by Bizik, who sought re-nomination, was not changed. Sabo, running for the office a second time, received a winning vote of 2,937, or 92 more votes than Bizik. This also was not changed in the recount.

Sabo will face Roger Groth, Republican, who received 263 votes, in the Nov. 3 general election.

The 24th District embraces the townships of Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren and the cities of Belleville, Romulus and Wayne and parts of Taylor, Westland and Dearborn Heights.

Zoning committee keeps meeting

The Citizens Advisory Committee on Romulus' proposed Zoning ordinance held its regular meeting Sept. 16 to discuss the zoning over which is south of the I-94 Expressway, north of Pennsylvania Rd., east of Hannan Rd., and West of Wayne Rd.

Tentative approval has been given in the area mentioned above.

Anyone interested in this particular area is invited to attend the meeting and express his opinion in regard to the suggested zoning.

At the next scheduled meeting the committee will be reviewing the complete proposed zoning map. The date of this meeting will be announced later.

Anyone interested in the proposed zoning may contact Mrs. Florence Allen at 721-3819 for further information.

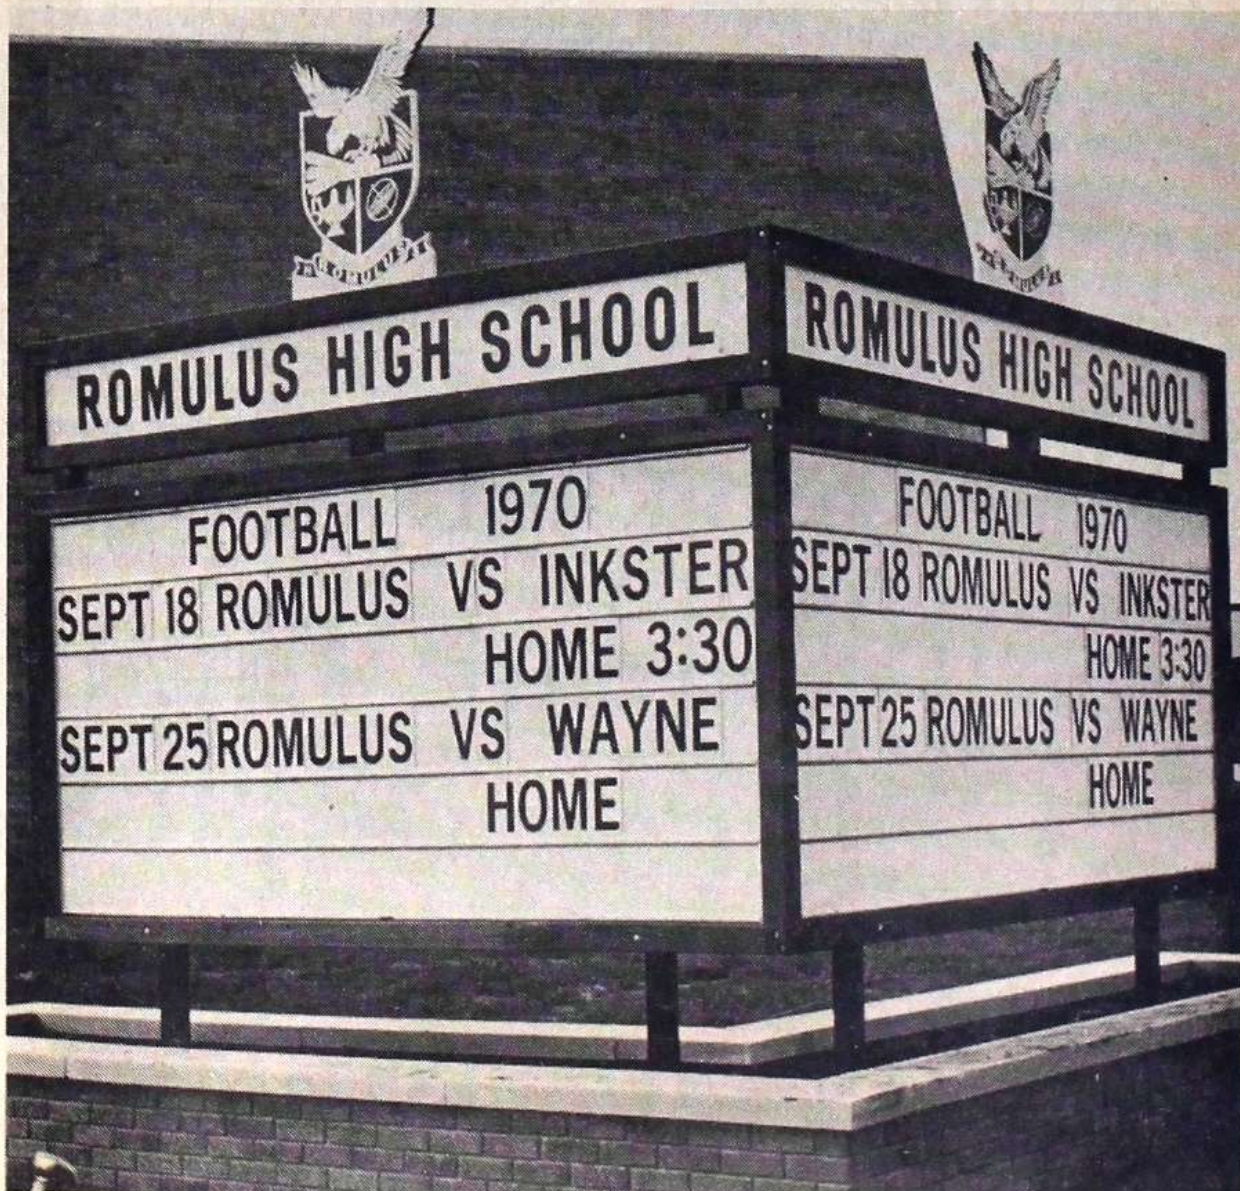

With the completion of the study of the zoning map the committee will take under consideration the wording of the zoning text.

Red Cross looks for volunteers

The week of Sept. 28 through Oct. 2 has been set aside as Red Cross volunteer Recruitment week by the Southeastern Michigan Chapter, American Red Cross.

The chapter urgently needs over 500 hospital volunteers to serve in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Currently Red Cross hospital volunteers provide assistance in over 30 hospitals in the tri-county area.

In general, Red Cross hospital volunteers assist in the "non-professional" hospital duties, and provide the extra attention that hospital personnel are sometimes too busy to give.

Duties of hospital volunteers vary, according to specific hospital needs. They receive their training and designation of duties at the hospital to which they are assigned or request to work.

A primary duty of Red Cross hospital volunteer is to visit with patients.

Other Red Cross volunteer services include: blood program, transportation, service to military families, office volunteer and induction volunteers.

During volunteer recruitment week, the Red Cross chapter and regional offices will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday and Thursday. Offices will be specially staffed to provide information to prospective volunteers.

The daily selling rate was 3,116 cars and 1,754 trucks. The truck rate was second highest for the period. Last year's comparable rates were 3,621 cars and 1,674 trucks when sales were 28,970 and 13,389 respectively. Each period had eight selling days.

To date this year, Ford dealers have sold 1,222,628 cars and 478,788 trucks, compared to this time last year when they had sold 1,314,213 cars and 500,034 trucks.

Structures set for demolition

Twenty more vacant and unsafe residential structures in Romulus are slated for the demolition hammers, Joseph B. Gallagher, manager of the Romulus Building Department, reported.

Owners of these unsafe homesteads will be notified soon to initiate demolition proceedings through private channels within 30 days after receiving notification, he said.

Upon failure to do so, the city will advertise for bids from demolition firms to do the job. Costs charged to the city will be assessed against the property owner.

The first phase of Romulus' clean up of the city's structures found to be hazards to the public safety, welfare and health of residents of the community was completed three weeks ago. It involved 11 homes scattered throughout the city.

Our readers write

John Birch member tells about that group

To The Editor:

Last week a letter appeared from an otherwise anonymous party using a group (?) named "People for Huron" as a cover.

It was a libelous diatribe of hate and fearmongering that is usually ascribed to so called "right wingers."

Most of the letter was levelled at the John Birch Society and also MOTOREDE Committees. I have been a member of the J.B.S. for over five years so what I am going to say stems from long experience and rather profound study.

The J.B.S. is a non-political, non-secret education organization whose total strategy is education and our only weapon is the truth. Aside from not publishing our membership list (like most churches, the NAACP, ACLU and local fraternities), all materials are available to both members and non-members alike.

We do not discriminate as to membership, we have many Negroes, Jewish, Catholics and other minority groups. All programs of the J.B.S. are purely voluntary and the only criterion is that the agenda meets with an individual's conscience before he acts upon it.

Dues are discriminatory; men pay $2 per month, women and students pay $1 per month; all members receive a monthly bulletin of programs with discussion and special projects.

The ultimate goal of the J.B.S. is "Less government, more individual responsibility, and, with God's help, a better world."

MOTOREDE is an acronym for "Movement To Restore Decency" which is an ad hoc committee originated by the J.B.S. but are usually composed of non-Birch members. The purpose is well stated in its name.

In addition to opposition to sex education, it is fighting pornography and drugs, all of which are directed at destroying the

Citizens' committee are not Birchers

To The Editor:

The Huron Township Citizens Committee does not support any one candidate. Our committee is made up of Republican and Democrats alike and people from all denominations. We discuss many issues.

Those who wish to work for one party or the other have the right to do so under the democratic way. Judging who is capable for office is not our responsibility. This is up to the voters of Huron to decide for themselves.

Parents are against a committee being formed for writing board policy. Too many times parents have tried to work with the school on committees that last just long enough to discourage the dissenting parents and all is forgotten.

We suggest that the board policy be worked on by everyone in Huron Township, not just a few hand-picked puppets.

The issues are not "The John Birch Society" or the "K.K.K." or the "Communist", but, the issue is our schools and our children!

A recall was never threatened by the citizens committee. One woman threatened a recall at a board meeting before the citizens committee was formed. Our attorney has threatened recall. Is this who you are referring to?

In public we have stated we are not John Birchers. We still hold to that truth. We do not feel it is necessary to deny this again and again. What are we uncovering that has the "People for Huron" so upset?

We the parents of Huron Township will not allow our children to be used as political footballs. We have more respect for our children and our community. We have always stressed the fact that parents should exercise their Democratic right to evaluate their schools by attending school board meetings and judging for themselves.

Social Security queries answered

Q. I'm 65, but I don't plan to retire in the near future. What will become of the social security contributions I have made over the many years?

A. Your contributions go into the social security trust funds from which monthly social security payments are made. Even though you are working your contributions are providing social security protection for your family if you should die. At 72 you can get benefits even if you are still working full time. And you don't have to retire to take advantage of the Medicare health benefits for those 65 or over.

Q. I am a student social security beneficiary and I worked this summer. Will this work cause me to lose benefits?

A. If you earn more than $1,680 during this year, some benefits will be withheld. The amount depends on how much you earn above $1,680. One dollar in benefits is withheld for every $2 you earn between $1,680 and $2,880.

In addition, $1 in benefits is withheld for every $1 of earnings above $2,880. However, no matter how much your total yearly earnings exceed $1,680, you can get a check for any month in which you neither earn more than $140 nor perform substantial services as a self-employed person.

Troop 1739 plans activities

Boy Scout Troop 1739, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Charles R. Kline, held its first fall meeting Monday, Sept. 14, and began to incorporate the troop's activities program.

In attendance were the following boys: Harvey A. Millar, Michael McCallum, Mark Webb, Dale Mullins, Kenneb Clelland, David McLean, and Owen McLean.

On the following Wednesday evening, Sept. 16, at the home of Harvey A. Millar, the Hungry Wolves Patrol met to nominate the officers of their patrol and to begin planning the events for the coming fall and Spring season.

In conjunction with this, the Mothers' Auxiliary, under the leadership of Mrs. Kenneth McCallum, held a Mothers' Club Meeting last evening at her home to discuss what the mothers group can do to aid the Troop in their venture for the outdoor life of the boys.

The tentative program that will be followed includes a five-mile hike on Sept. 26, a visit to the Detroit Zoo the following Saturday afternoon, with a ten mile over-night hike and a trip to the Planetarium during the month of October.

Troop 1739 is endeavoring to make Scouting as educational and as active as possible for the boys, and for the parents if they so desire.

As Scoutmaster Kline says, Scouting should be fun, and in fun one learns, and to learn is to open the minds of the boys to what there is available for everyone to continue on with in his pursuit of knowledge.

Troop 1739, meets every Monday evening at 7:30 p.m., at the Harrison Elementary School, located on Harrison Rd., just off of Eureka Rd.

Kline extends an invitation to all those interested boys and parents to attend one of the Troop's meetings and meet the rest of the boys. For those who wish more information please call 941-5677.

Residents protest city police talks

A Citizens Group for the Retention & Improvement of the Romulus Police has been formed. The group reports a membership of 50 "concerned" residents.

The group reported Monday they will attempt a house-to-house canvass of major subdivisions in the city to inform residents of the current sheriff-city discussions and get support for their campaign to retain and develop the present city police force.

The Romulus Homeowners Association in keeping with their non-partisan policies have scheduled an Open Forum to be held at Romulus Junior High School Auditorium, located at 11401 Olive St., Romulus beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Association's officials state that discussions at the open forum will center around a proposed plan to replace the present police force with total police services from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

The association has scheduled speakers representing both the city police and sheriff's office.

It is expected that the city council will make its decision within the next two months, the association reported, and it urged all those interested in having the best possible police protection for Romulus attend the open forum.

The association also pointed out that "it has become a controversial and involved issue," and asked homeowners and city residents to not let their opinion be formed by rumors and unsubstantiated facts, but to attend the open forum and establish their own position.

Quick response lends aid to excursion

By BEVERLY McANALLY

Two weeks ago when W. M. Quiney appealed to our readers for help in arranging transportation for 50 kids to attend the policeman's circus, things were bogged down by the lack of funds.

John Drouillard and Bob Sparks, area businessmen, has given Quiney the tickets, the Family and Neighborhood Services had the children and chaperones, but there was a problem about money to hire the bus for the trip to the State Fair grounds where the circus was being held.

After reading of Quiney's plight in the Romulus Roman, the community responded with such generosity and warmth that Friday afternoon's excursion developed into an event not soon to be forgotten in Romulus.

All the preliminary planning and organization began paying off when the people and children started arriving at the Neighborhood Action Center, located on Beverly Rd., about the time school closed on Friday.

The bus and driver, from the People's Community Church in Westland, were there and the important job of tagging youngsters was soon under way.

Seven members of the Concerned Parents Association, who were to act as chaperones, were quickly assigned certain children who would be their responsibility for the trip.

By 2:30 p.m., the last child was aboard and the bus on its way to the Shell Service Station, located on Wayne Rd., near Romulus High School, where gas for the trip had been donated by station owner, Bob Sparks.

Waiting at the station, when the bus arrived, were Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and Leonard J. Folmar, city clerk. They greeted the organizers and presented them with inscribed Human Relations Certificates, recognizing their outstanding efforts in behalf of the children of Romulus.

The next stop was across the street at the Jack-in-The-Box drive in where owner, Bob Lewis, had double cheeseburger sandwiches, french fries, and cokes ready for everyone.

Off-duty Wayne County Sheriff's Deputy, Duane Burgess, had been drafted to help carry trays of food out to the bus. After making many trips back and forth with treats, he and Drouillard escorted the group to the circus.

By the time they arrived, the first performance was well under way, so, after a few negotiations, it was decided that they would stay over for the evening performance.

With the help of one of the circus' clown who volunteered his services, the hour interval between performances quickly passed. The circus was worth waiting for; all the elements were there, thrills, excitement and suspense; everything a circus ought to be.

Because each child had been given 50 cents to spend as he wished, a lot of popcorn, hot dogs, cotton candy and soft drinks were consumed. A coloring book and balloon was also donated for every child.

When the bus finally started home, after 9 p.m., there were 53 tired, full and happy children, eleven exhausted but equally happy chaperones and one very satisfied W.M. Quiney, who thanks our readers are "just wonderful".

Forgery and fraud charges are brought Charges of forgery and fraud involving the sale of $73,600 in new automobiles have been lodged against George S. Hollis, 45, manager of the Detroit Auto Leasing Co., of 8600 Merriman Rd., Romulus by detectives of the Wayne County Sheriff's office.

Hollis, who resides at 36162 Florane, Westland, was arraigned last Saturday in Inkster Municipal Court on charges of larceny by trick and in the Romulus District Court on charges of forgery of automobile titles. He was released on bond pending further court proceedings.

Detective Arthur Torikan reported that Hollis used several 1970 luxury cars as collateral to obtain loans. He would then forge the automobile titles to show that the cars were free of any liens and would then seal them, Torikan said.

Banks and credit unions in western Wayne County were victims of the racket between January and June of this year, Torikan reported.

School program continues

A Community School Program designed to provide more services to the Huron School District has signed up 200 persons, Roger Benner, director of the community school program, announced Monday.

The program does provide more economical use of the Huron schools by offering a variety of evening and weekend classes at little or no charge in the same buildings previously used only for K to 12 programs.

The first area to be developed under the community school program is Adult EHM High School Completion and Adult Basic Education, Benner said.

Registration started on Sept. 14 and will continue through Oct. 2 with a goal of 250 persons.

Classes meet for three hours each evening from 7 to 10 p.m. Office hours of the community school program are from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Newspaper Week: it's heartwarming

Very shortly, Oct. 4 to 10, the United States will observe National Newspaper Week.

The theme this year will be, "American Newspapers—200 Years of Freedom—1770's to 1970's."

Just to read those words denoting the theme of Newspaper Week should be enough to warm the heart of Mr. Average U.S. Citizen.

During the year, editors duly take notice of many worthy and memorable observances. But, they cannot be blamed for calling attention, with a certain degree of pride, as well as humbleness, to their own special week.

The fact that after 200 years personal liberty under representative government still prevails is due, in no small part, to the "internal vigilance" of a free press.

The community newspaper — and there are over 10,000 of them — is an institution that lends permanence and tangibility to individual rights as nothing else can.

Every nation has its national observances. In most, however, there is no occasion to celebrate a National Newspaper Week. Where there is no free press, the less said about the newspaper, the better.

Yes, National Newspaper Week is a heartwarming reminder that we have lived in freedom for 200 years and that the community newspaper has played no small role in preserving that freedom.

It's time to join

There's an updated look to the Boy Scouts of America, yet all of the tried-and-true educational values are still there for the younger generation.

This fall the nation's largest youth organization with over 60 years of experience in providing an active, virile, he-man program is conducting its annual fall roundup. This is a part of BOYPOWER '76, the dynamic, longrange expansion program of the Boy Scouts of America.

The program, which is in its second year and will continue until 1976, makes scouting relevant to the needs and concerns of youth and the nation and sets standards which maintain a level of quality for scout units.

Now, for the next three months, there's a special emphasis on boy recruiting, enlistment of adult volunteers and new scout unit organization.

Parents recognize the values for their sons who are scouts, and the fall roundup helps the boys and the Scout unit get together.

Scouting is already a partner with many religious, community and school organizations that use the scout program in this area of their own youth service.

New scout units are also being organized in many sections of the Detroit Area Council.

This is the time when boys who are not scouts can join.

And parents will see their sons reap the benefits of scout training.

Rules streamlined under House reform

By WILLIAM D. FORD
Congressman, 15th District

I and 325 colleagues Thursday approved the first significant Congressional reform bill in a quarter of a century.

Only 19 votes were cast against the bill, which will streamline many Congressional procedures, increase efficiency of operation, and eliminate much of the secrecy which has traditionally surrounded Congressional activities.

I co-sponsored five specific reform proposals, and was the major sponsor of another which guarantees debate time for amendments made to proposed legislation on the House floor.

At present, a member of Congress who offers an amendment on the floor is not assured of any time to explain his intent. Under the plan, if a member planning to offer an amendment has it published in the Congressional Record at least one day in advance, he is guaranteed five minutes' debate time, while the first opponent to obtain the floor will also have five minutes.

This will make for a far more Democratic process, and will enable members of Congress to hear the pros and cons of all amendments.

Other reform proposals I sponsored were approved Thursday will:

1. Require the recording of teller votes, which now are not recorded and, in effect, enable members to keep many of their important votes a secret.

2. Require that all votes taken in closed committee hearings be made public. This is also another blow at the secrecy system.

3. Guarantee a minimum of 10 minutes to debate motions to recommit bills, which in effect, is usually a motion to kill the bill.

4. Require a layover of three days before a vote can be taken on House-Senate Conference reports. These are compromise bills which frequently require time to analyze and study.

Speaking of schools

Important year for decisions

By BYRON ANTCLIFF, Superintendent of Huron Schools

EDITOR'S NOTE: In a landmark decision Sept. 14, the Michigan Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of state tax subsidies for private schools in a 4 to 3 vote. The court in a separate ruling ordered onto Michigan's Nov. 3 ballot a proposed constitutional amendment to outlaw such subsidies.

Michigan students, parents, educators and other citizens can look forward to an important year of decisions on education. Michigan legislature, in its last session, approved $22 million to help finance non-public schools.

No payment of this money will be made until the Supreme Court has ruled that it is legal. This decision will certainly be a most important one during the coming year.

What changes this will bring to Michigan schools if the payment is ruled legal, is unknown at this time. Some people believe that it will allow the non-public schools to continue despite rising costs. Others believe that it may ruin the public school system.

The next big decision that must be made during the coming year will be on Governor Miliken's recommendations for educational reform.

Changes have been recommended in the organization of school districts.

Under the Governor's plan, no district would have less than 2,000 students except where distance requires it. It is believed by the Governor and many educators, that a district unless it is a minimum size of 2,000, either cannot offer the program its student should have or waste money in doing it.

The question is not a new one to the people of Michigan. Many states have already adopted such laws regarding schools ties.

Each citizen who has an opinion regarding this important question should contact their legislator and make his position clear.

The next, and perhaps most important decision that could well be made during this year, the change in raising money for schools. Several plans have been proposed.

One includes a state-wide property tax, with money to be spread equally to all districts on a per pupil basis. Another plan, called the equal quality plan, would give money to school districts only if they provide a quality program. This is an important new idea to Michigan students.

Whatever plan is favored, one thing becomes increasingly clear to educators and citizens alike, no child should be deprived of an education of the highest quality simply because a factory chooses to locate two miles farther down the road. The solution to this problem is not easy. If local areas are not allowed to keep revenues when industries locate in their area, no area would choose to attract industry and its resulting problems.

With all of these big decisions waiting to be made during the coming year, your state representative and your state senator eagerly await your opinions on these very important questions.

Many of us fail to contact our legislators because we feel they are difficult to get ahold of or will not listen to us when we do. The truth is, nothing could be more wrong. In my contacts with Rep. Edward F. Mahalak and Sen. William Faust, whose districts include the Huron School District, I have found they are anxious to know what the citizens believe.

Because it is such an important year, make it a point to express your opinion.

Between the lines

Recognition day is in order

By HENRY CANTIN

Not enough is heard these days of the local efforts made by citizens who care about the administration, development and growth of the communities in which they reside.

This caring and concern for the improvement and future progress of their residential areas and for the best in governmental administration is reflected in their ever-ready willingness to serve in various community improvement programs and projects as well as assisting their elected officials in assorted capacities.

We have in mind at the moment those persons who volunteer their time and efforts, serving on area boards and commissions, various citizens advisory groups and planning commissions with little or no compensation.

City and township government require the appointment of commissions and advisory groups for the proper and efficient administration of government.

The saving to area taxpayers by such volunteer services by their neighbors amounts to a tidy sum annually.

The achievements by commission and advisory personnel have been in many instances "outstanding." So reports local government officials.

Current examples of people willing to serve without compensation on improving the residential and educational life of their communities are:

A Citizens Advisory Committee recently appointed in Romulus to assist and advise in the planning a new proposed zoning ordinance.

Another group is the Citizens Study Committee and its seven subcommittees appointed with the approval of the Van Buren Board of Education to study educational services and programs of the school system and make recommendations.

In appreciation we think that a community-wide day of recognition honoring those who serve their communities in such capacities is in order.

A reminder to the numerous 4-H'ers in the Belleville, Romulus and adjacent areas, National 4-H week is to be observed from Oct. 4 to 10.

This is one organization that needs no introduction or exaggerated flattery. With a membership of nearly three million boys and girls, it reaches into virtually every community.

Local 4-H Clubs and the 4-H program are part of the nationwide educational system of the Cooperative Extension Service—a partnership of the county governments, the state land-grant universities and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Any boy or girl from the age of nine through 19 may join 4-H merely by signing up and choosing a project.

We think that we are fortunate to have an educational system like 4-H. And we offered out congratulations to local 4-H Clubs for the fine job they are all doing.

Pamphlet reveals Birch connection

To The Editor:

Coincidence? No! Fact? Yes! You labeled it, we didn't.

MOTOREDE — The Movement to Restore Decency—is a John Birch organization!

There was a MOTOREDE presentation in Belleville on Sept. 15 which was attended by two members of the Huron School Board, and their allied members of the Huron Township Citizens Committee. The John Birch Society Blue Book was for sale, with applications for membership in The John Birch Society.

A pamphlet describing the MOTOREDE, Movement to Restore Decency, was also distributed.

In this pamphlet the principles and purposes of the Movement to Restore Decency were stated on page 5: "The Movement is sponsored by, and given the nationwide organizational support of, The John Birch Society."

Which ten per cent of the Huron Township Citizens Committee are the Birchers? Or do you still have enough sense left to be ashamed to admit it?

I wish to thank all the student nurses and the RNs for their attention. Also I wish to thank Dr. Damski for the special attention. The food was excellent. My first stay in Annapolis Hospital was great.

Make sure concrete worker is licensed

To The Editor:

Homeowners now back from summer vacations are beginning to look into fall repairs, such as, driveways, walks, porches and patios. Concrete work properly installed and cared for should last for years.

The Associated Cement Contractors of Michigan, a non-profit Association of Concrete Contractors, urges homeowners to beware of unlicensed contractors who operate on little experience, have no financial backing or cannot reasonably guarantee their work.

The association suggests that a homeowner go to his local building department or Chamber of Commerce for a recommended contractor and then check with the Bureau of Credits at 961-8770 to determine whether the contractor is licensed as required by law.

CREDIT CARDS EXPAND

More than half of the commercial banks in the United States are now involved in the credit card business, according to latest estimates. Of 14,000 banks in this country, 8,000 of them participate in one program or another.

The two major bank credit systems are Bank Americard and Interbank-Master Charge. These two systems cover 49 states and many foreign countries.

Over one million merchants now accept bank credit cards for purchases and the total money spent through the cards last year rose to over $4 billion.

Bank cards accounted for two per cent of the total retail sales in the country last year. By 1975 this is expected to rise to 18 to 20 per cent of all retail sales.

And by the end of this year another 1,000 banks are expected to be participating.

And those figures should leave no doubt that the credit cards looks like it's here to stay.

Biggest underdog problem among the four candidates nominated by the two major parties for the state Supreme Court is faced by Wayne County Circuit Judge Edward S. Piggins.

Thus Piggins finds himself in a less than enviable position, at least at the start of the campaign. It has been

Inland, water funds

DNR credited $7.5 million

Michigan was recently credited with nearly $7.5 million in federal land and water conservation funds for the current fiscal year to cost-share more outdoor recreational facilities, particularly in people-packed city areas.

The federal funds, when combined with an equal match-up of state and local monies, will be magnified into $15 million worth of outdoor recreation improvements, reports the Department of Natural Resources, which administers Michigan's Land and Water allocations.

The state's latest allotment, seventh highest in the nation, is up some $5.5 million from the previous one, owing largely to a $117 million boost in land and water monies earmarked for the 50 states, several U.S. territories, and the District of Columbia.

In keeping with the main purpose of that increase, a significant share of Michigan's funds will go for expanding recreational outlets to serve citizens who live in crowded urban areas, points out the DNR.

With the emphasis on meeting metropolitan leisure-time needs, the DNR will distribute the state's latest allotment 50-50 between state and local recreation projects. This is the same formula followed by the DNR in parceling out about $10.2 million in land and water money since funding began under the federal program in 1965.

The $7.5 million now set aside for Michigan will be released by federal authorities when this state's master plan for recreation is updated by the DNR and formally approved by the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR).

The DNR's small staff of recreation specialists assigned to refining and revising that plan shifted its main time and talents in recent months to implementing the state's $100 million recreation bond program.

With the program now in gear, those specialists are back on the recreation plan, pushing hard to finalize it for review by the BOR.

To date, land and water allotments have paid half the shot for $18 million worth of recreational improvements in Michigan.

State and local funds have been used to match the federal total and finance 50 percent of these costs for acquiring recreational lands and developing outdoor leisure-time facilities.

Under this match-up of federal, state, and local monies, more than 200 land and water projects have been put on Michigan's map, adding new outlets for campers, boaters, picnickers, and other outdoor users.

Apportionments under the Land and Water Conservation

Fund, totaling $176.7 million for the current fiscal year, are financed by several types of federal revenues.

Handicapped activities open

The Activity Center program for teenagers and adults opened last week at the Easter Seal Center near Middlebelt Rd., and Michigan Ave., Inkster, under the leadership of Janice Hengel, the staff occupational therapist.

Groups and individuals may register at no cost for craft classes to be developed in areas in which interest is shown.

The aim is to offer diversions which will keep the mind and the body active in the community and at home when it is difficult to get out often. In some cases a degree of creativity and skill may lead to the production of saleable items.

A group of multiple-handicapped teenagers are to be transported each day to the Center from John Hill Junior High School in the Cherry Hill School District for a two hour session which will include an emphasis on home-making and the activities of daily living.

Out of school youth, enrolled in the program last year, but not yet employed, are expected to join them.

Older adults, many of whom participated in the program weekly last year, find practice in their favorite hobbies almost as satisfying as learning new skills when a congenial group provides a social outlet as well.

Information may be secured by calling Miss Hengel at the Center, PA 2-3055, Monday through Fridays between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Michele Owen is wed at Episcopal Church

Candlelight and arrangements of white gladiolas and chrysanthemums formed the setting at Trinity Episcopal Church, Belleville, as Michele Jo Owen and Thomas C. Everard exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands.

The evening ceremony, September 5, united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Owen of 41405 Edison Lake Road, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Everard of 8843 Nottingham, Ypsilanti.

The Rev. Robert Mac Donald presided at the double ring rite before some 200 assembled guests.

ESCORTED TO the altar by her father, the dark-haired bride was gown in a Victorian mode creation fashioned with a high neckline and lace bishop sleeves cuffed at the wrist. White satin ribbon traced the insert of lace which formed a V on the fitted bodice and matching lace centered the chapel train which was later drawn up into a bustle for the reception.

Huron Valley Garden Club has meeting

The September 14 meeting of the Huron Valley Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Moon on Columbia Ave. Sixteen members were present for the business session and plant sale. The rain cancelled out plans for a tour of members' gardens.

Mrs. Olin Wyman reported on the progress of the club's current project — planting ground cover to beautify Belleville Lake.

Plans were made for the following to attend the District I Annual Meeting at Grosse Pointe War Memorial Fries Auditorium: Mrs. John Tator, Mrs. Harold Roberts, Mrs. Olin Wyman, Mrs. Merrill Bird, Mrs. Joseph Moon, Mrs. Don Blend, and president, Mrs. Rodney Mast.

The October 5 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Flavell.

Farm Bureau meets at Roeser home

The first meeting, after the summer recess, of the Friendly Neighbors Farm Bureau Group was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roeser on Ecorse Rd. on Wednesday evening, September 16.

Topic for discussion was, "School Financing."

A social hour and lunch followed the discussion. Place of meeting for October will be announced later.

Village chapel is scene of wedding

Katherine L. DeMara of Dearborn became the bride of Samuel Richard Smith III of Romulus in a ceremony performed August 22, in Martha Mary Chapel, Greenfield Village, Dearborn. Close to 300 persons heard the young couple repeat their double ring vows before the Rev. Frank Leineké of Romulus.

The candlelighted chapel was adorned with bouquets of white stock on the altar. The traditional wedding march was played by Margaret Whitaker.

The bride wore a tucked cotton voile gown fashioned with a Victorian neckline, French puffed sleeves, and a matching mantilla-length train. Her bouquet contained white garden flowers intertwined with purple statice.

Given in marriage by her father, Katherine is the daughter of Mrs. Corrine Patrick DeMara and Eugene DeMara of Dearborn Heights. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. Leonard Smith of Wayne Road, Romulus.

Danette Brandy of Dearborn, lifelong friend of the bride, assisted as maid of honor. She wore a purple embroidered linen skirt with a white tucked cotton blouse and moss green cummerbund. Her bow headdress matched her gown and she carried a basket of purple asters, yellow daisies and purple statice.

A wide Dior bow of matching lace held her bouffant veil of silk illusion which drifted to mid-back length and a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds completed her bridal finery.

A quintet of bridal attendants preceded the bride up the aisle. Irene Sohoza of Belleville was asked to be maid of honor. Her bouquet was a small cluster of pink daisies. Carrying similar arrangements of white daisies were Mrs. James Bolay of Ypsilanti; Mrs. Michael Morris of Belleville, the bridegroom's sister; Lynn Smith of Southfield; and the junior bridesmaid, Marcia Owen, the bride's sister.

Identically styled, the senior attendants' empire frocks were in pink organza with softly-cuffed necklines and bell sleeves frosted with pink lace. Marcia's full-length frock was designed with puffed sleeves. All five wore large pink Dior bows in their hair.

KEENAN ELKINS of Ypsilanti served as best man. The corps of ushers included Jim Bolay of Ypsilanti; Michael Morris of Belleville, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; and Michael Shackelford of Ypsilanti, a cousin. The bride's brother, Kyle Owen, was junior usher.

Mrs. Owen, the bride's mother, was escorted up the aisle wearing an aqua chiffon frock and corsage of matching roses while Mrs. Everard chose a yellow double knit ensemble with a corsage of yellow roses.

The Garden Terrace Room of the Hilton Inn, Ann Arbor, was reserved for the reception which followed. Among those congratulating the newlyweds were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kremer of St. Petersburg, Florida, and Mrs. Evelyn Owen of Wyandotte. Gary Visconti, a native Detroit and graduate of Wayne State University -- who brought much fame to the city as two time United States and North American Amateur Figure Skating champion and as a member of three U.S. world skating teams and the 1968 Olympic team -- is the star of this year's Holiday on Ice spectacular.

At the present time the young skating star is the world's professional skating title holder having won the title in London, England this past spring.

Co-featured with Visconti is Anna Galmarini, former Italian Olympic star and also the women's professional champion; Ray Balmer of Milwaukee and Marei Langenbein, the German girl who, in addition to being a fine solo performer, is the 1970 Queen of Ice Skating.

The first two performances on Holiday on Ice at the Cobo Arena are sponsored. The Tuesday, Oct. 13 opening show has been purchased by the Republican fund raising win of the Michigan Republicans and the Wednesday, Oct. 14 show is for the benefit of the Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Nurses Association "Nurses Scholarship program". The purpose is to raise money to provide scholarships for nurses training.

The 1971 edition of Holiday on Ice presents six production numbers created and staged by Ted Shuffe who for several years has produced the Holiday on Ice shows in Europe.

He has used a variety of themes and opens the performance with a Tribute to Sonja Heni, the original empress of the skating world. Music from her motion picture hit "Sun Valley Serenade" forms the background for a winner wonderland setting.

The Enchanted Toy Shop brings to the ice the realm of children's fairy tales. The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers, the Three Bears, the Mouse and the Pussycat and others.

The windup of the first half presents the contrast between the classical ballet and the "mod" dance style featured on Off Broadway and in TV spectacles. It stars Gary Visconti, Marei Langenbein, Alfredo Mendoza and Carol Johnson in the Classic portrayal and Anna Galmarini, Ray Balmer, Juanita Percelly and Tommy Allen in the "Mod" romp on skates. The production has been voted the most effective in the show.

The second act is ushered in with a lavish skating rendition of the very old but still very new story of "Cinderella". Marei Langenbein is the scullery maid who was transformed into the beautiful princess and Ray Balmer is cast as prince charming.

Yourushka, a Russian folk tale is the basis for a wild and exciting skating exhibition starring Gary Visconti. It winds up as a Cossack Festival with Tommy Allen, Juanita Percelly, David Sadler, Mike Course and Ray Balmer.

The finale is titled "Old London Town". It presents the entire cast and is set in the shadows of London Bridge and the Tower of London. Extravagantly lighted it is set to the melodies familiar to everyone who has listened to English music.

There are ample comedy and specialty numbers. Anna Galmarini's solo set to the music of the late French singing great Edith Piaf has won great applause. Paul Andre, Johnny Leech, Alfredo Mendoza, John LaDue, Mike Course and Jack Graham supply the laughs.

Nightly performances at 8 p.m. are scheduled Tuesday through Saturday. In addition a Saturday matinee is scheduled at 2 p.m. Sunday performances will be at 1:30 and 5:30 p.m.

Tickets are on sale at the Cobo Arena box office, and all J. L. Hudson and Grinnell ticket outlets.

State senator hails senior citizen meeting

State Sen. William Faust hailed the White House Community Forum, held on Tuesday, in the Twin Towers Activity Room, 2000 Inkster Rd., Inkster, as a major step forward in meeting the problems of the older Americans.

"I am especially encouraged by this grass roots approach to investigating and beginning to solve the problems of older Americans," Faust said.

Charles A. Thompson, chairman of the forum announced that the meeting started at 2 and ran to 4:30 p.m. Thompson, in addition to chairing Tuesday is meeting, also serves on an Advisory Committee for the White House Conference.

"I am confident that the Federal people are concerned when someone of Thompson's activities had a leading role in the meeting. I am certain that citizens wanted to come to speak out about their problems," Senator Faust said.

"We have passed legislation creating the Commission on Aging and establishing a center for the study of gerontology in Michigan. We have taken piecemeal steps to solving some of the problems of Michigan's older citizens, but we have not taken a coordinated approach to the study and solution of these problems.

"The forum, held Tuesday, was a big step forward for us in gathering information on the needs concerns of our older citizens. Hopefully, the widespread participation can give us an accurate picture of the problems so that we may fashion a series of programs to meet their needs."

"We have made a small beginning. Now, the cooperation of all of the citizens in my district is needed if we are to continue to solve the problems and build the kind of society that all people, pre-schoolers and grandparents, can be proud to live in -- in peace and health and harmony."

Voters can register

The regular hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., except Saturday.

'Rothschilds' is in trouble

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Drama Critic

If, as most savvy Broadwayites allege, the shows that have the smell of success about them are the shows which get changed the least in pre-New York runs, then "The Rothschilds," the new Bock-Harnick-Yellen musical concluding its run at the Fisher, is in deep trouble.

A month ago, "The Rothschilds" was about a believable but not too lovable family of Hessian bankers which rose through the ashes of Napoleon's destruction from the Frankfurt ghetto to the highest financial peaks of Europe.

The authors rightly recognized a family so simpleminded in the pursuit of wealth was likely to attract little sympathy from the audience, so major surgery has been performed on act two. Presto! The Rothschilds emerge as humanistic benefactors whose prime motive is to ease the horrible burdens placed on their ghetto brethren.

Shoved into the background is the drive for wealth. Almost ignored are the titles they sought. The Rothschilds are now seeking their place or heaven, not on earth. The authors definitely know what is needed but unfortunately, if the Rothschilds are a lot more lovable, they are equally less believable.

If the characters evoke no more affection, the score improves a shade. It is serviceable but not distinguished. One song, the iron-willed "I Will Bow" has been replaced by the warm "One Room," but it isn't a real winner.

Generally the show has been tightened and a clumsy auction motif has been downplayed. The shows looks a little better but it still has a long way to go.

Children can see free jungle film

The Detroit Audubon Society is presenting a free matinee for all school age children at 2 p.m., Saturday, at the Rackham Auditorium, Farnsworth at Woodward, in Detroit.

"Shikar in India" will be the color film featuring elephants, tigers and jungle tribes as photographed by John Moyer. "Shikar" means hunting game with a camera.

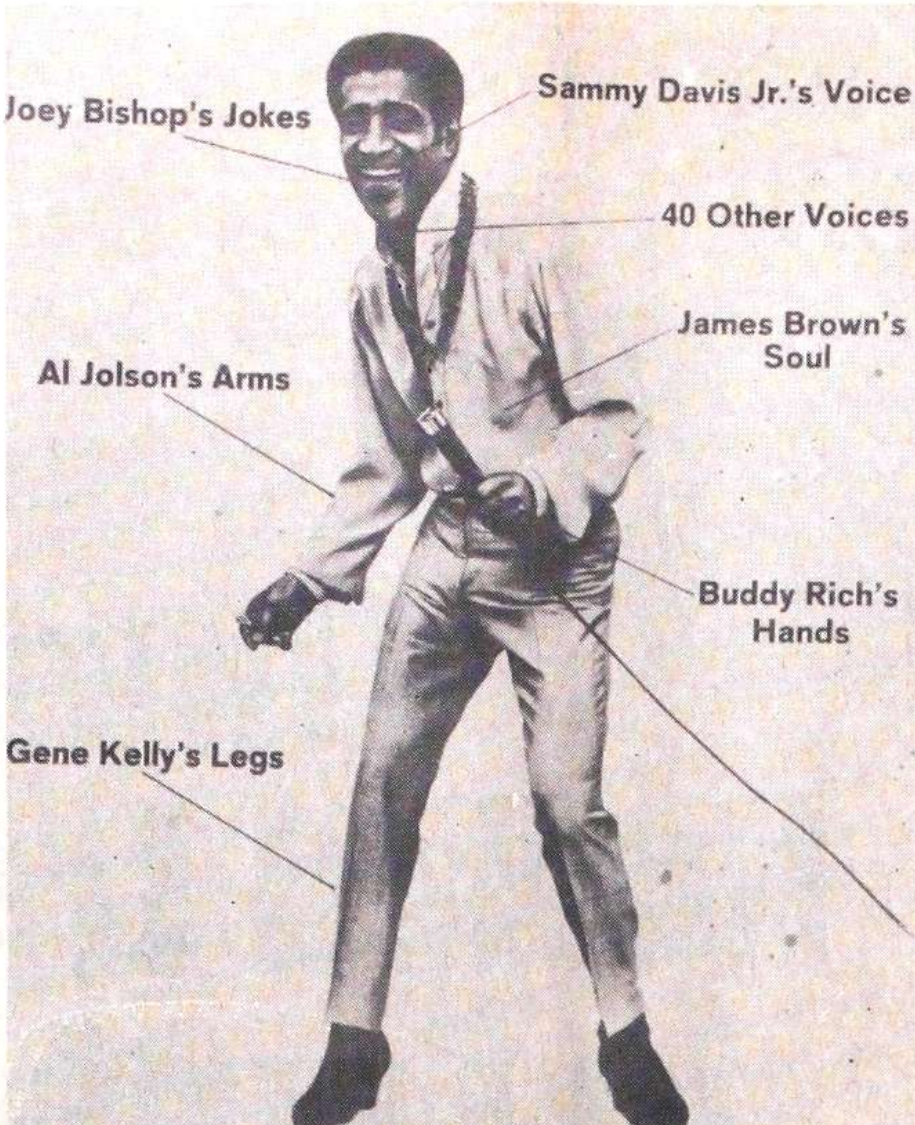

This color film took three years to make. Moyer traveled thousands of miles throughout India, from snow-topped mountains in the north to rain-drenched jungles in the south, to find the wilderness areas where animals can be seen "doing what comes naturally"—feeding, fighting and living their everyday life.

Besides being a famous traveler, John Moyer is an accomplished speaker. He has a thrilling story to tell of the animal life of India, and his pictures of the animals are dramatic as well as true.

All children of school age are welcome.

For further information call the Detroit Audubon Society office, 893-6262, Louisa Butler.

PUT THEM ALL TOGETHER — Newest member of the Motown family of fine stars, Sammy Davis Jr., makes a rare Detroit appearance on Thursday evening. He will be heard in concert at the Masonic Temple at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $7.50, $6.50, $5.50 and $4.50 and are available at Hudsons and the Masonic Temple box office.

Film full of surprises

Joseph E. Levine presents an Arco-Embassy release, "Riders on the Rain," produced by Serge Silberman, directed by Rene Clement story and screenplay by Sebastien Japrisot. Color. French, with subtitles. Rated GP. At the Studio-North with the following cast: Charles Bronson, Marlene Jobert, Gabriele Tinti, Jill Ireland, Annie Cordy, Corinne Marchand.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

Sebastien Japrisot, one of France's better suspense and mystery authors, and Rene Clement, who can usually cast any sort of a spell he desires, have teamed up for "Riders on the Rain," one of the year's better chillers.

Marlene Jobert, a spunky Julie Andrews, stars as Mellie, a young wife who is followed home and raped by a psychopath who appears off a bus in the rain.

When she hears a noise, indicating the sex fiend has remained in the house, she grabs her husband's shotgun and kills him. Afraid to tell the police — her husband is a rather jealous moralist — she drags the body out to the beach and sinks it. Then the games begin.

Charles Bronson appears as a tough American out to find the psychopath. He unerringly hones in on Mellie and begins some rather sadistic games with her to make her confess and she determinedly refuses, despite Bronson's tactics, which range from trying to implicate Mellie's husband to efforts to get Mellie drunk and sick to her stomach.

Ultimately it becomes evident that the maniac's body has been confused with the body of an underworld figure killed by his mistress and Mellie, thinking the mistress was falsely accused, sets off for Paris to set the record straight.

It could be argued that Japrisot has read too much Dashiell Hammett, for Bronson's role is doggedly that of a man either gritting a bullet between his teeth or who would like to put one between someone else's. I will also pay $10 cold cash to anyone who can convince me that the picture really does explain how Bronson picked up Mellie's trail.

Old World Market celebrates 40 years

Like vintage wines, the annual "Old World Market" improves with age. It was begun 40 years ago during the Depression. This year its exotic flavor is heightened by seven little restaurants offering tasty food specialties of eight nationalities, Armenian, Finnish, Greek, Japanese, Mexican, Polish, Ukrainian and Filipino.

A Japanese feature is chicken teriyaki on a skewer. The chicken is cooked in sweet wine and soy sauce. A Finnish favorite is the hot paste, a meat-filled pastry that is popular in the Upper Peninsula.

Nationality booths representative of the cultures of Africa, Finland, Greece, Lithuania, Poland, China, France, India, Mexico, Ukraine, Estonia, Germany, Philippines and Italy will be manned by local residents connected with various ethnic culture groups.

These are merchandise booths featuring unusual gifts. The Institute's "Tiny Shop" will also offer an intriguing array of imports, many for children.

Most of the aforementioned nationality groups will also be represented in classical and folk music and by costumed dance groups. There'll be a calypso band, a woodwind quintet, a trio playing German chamber music, Italian opera, a balalaika orchestra, Greek music, Hungarian dancers, Lithuanian dances, Israeli and Scottish features, and street dancing nightly beginning at 8 p.m.

This cornucopia of sensory stimuli opens daily at noon and closes at ten p.m. (except nine p.m. Sunday) for four days, September 24 to 27, at the Institute, E. Kirby at John R.

Soprano leads off artists appearing with Symphony

Metropolitan Opera soprano Judith Raskin will lead off the parade of visiting artists to appear with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra this season.

The glamorous American singer will be featured at the Symphony's program to be performed this Thursday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium.

She'll be heard in Maurice Ravel's seldom-performed "Sheherazade," which is a set of three poems for voice and orchestra, and in the final movement of the orchestra's principal offering on both evenings, of Gustav Mahler's Symphony No. 4 in G major.

Sixteen Ehrling will conduct and will open each performance with Hector Berlioz's "Corsair" Overture.

Miss Raskin's only previous appearance with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra was at the 1968 Meadow Brook Music Festival when the orchestra was led by guest conductor Andre Kostelanetz.

Judith Raskin, "a great American beauty blessed with a great voice," is something of a triple phenomenon. As a recitalist, her perfection of posture, gesture, manner, language and musical accent have led critics and audiences to proclaim her as one of the handful of great lieder singers of our time.

In opera, her interpretations of Mozart, Verdi and Strauss heroines have reminded many of the late Elisabeth Schumann. And she appears regularly as a favorite of many of the great orchestras today.

To Detroit theater scene
Zodiac's 'Bag It' a welcome addition
By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Drama Critic

Henry K. Martin and Gene Rosenberg present "Bag It," a satirical revue in two acts directed by Martin and written by various sources. Wednesdays through Saturdays at the Zodiac, 12 Mile and Northwestern, with the following cast: Martin, Ted Rogers, Laurie Young and Phillip Mayesky.

Like the wandering Jew who returned to Israel after thousands of years in exile, Henry K. Martin may have found a home at the Zodiac at 12 Mile and Northwestern in Southfield.

Since Martin owns the Zodiac, his stay there may be more permanent than it was at a half dozen assorted homes like the Vanguard Playhouse and the Red Mill, where his perpetrations previously took him.

The Zodiac, a brightly painted and psychedelically lit establishment, is as handsome a home as the troupe has ever had. Performances are cabaret style although the Zodiac, serving pop and coffee only, could not be called a true cabaret. It would do well to seek a liquor license — that's where the money is — on, until it gets one, broaden the menu to sandwiches at least.

"Bag It," Martin's opening review, is no surprise to Martin's fans dating back to "Over the Counter," his first effort which, incidentally, introduced "Laugh In's" Lily Tomlin. It's a speedy blend of short skits, blackouts and a couple of thoughtful pieces, most of them quite funny, a couple of them dreadful.

Most of the material is original but a few, like the interview with the coarse and bloodthirsty Vietnam soldier who turns out to be the unit chaplain, are holdovers from previous efforts.

It should be noted that the group omits some of its longer items including its improvisational session with the audience at the first shows. Also the company was a bit low on the night the performance — in mid-run — was viewed. Even so there were laughs aplenty.

Several of the best numbers include a man plotting his wife's murder, a takeoff on Gunsmoke in which the virile Matt Dillon turns gay after the scene ends, Captain Ahab in search of Moby Dick and Martin's popular southerner, this time seen as a revivalist faith healer.

Martin, as always, picks his casts well. Laurie Young, Phillip Mayesky and Ted Rogers assist him ably.

The Zodiac is a most welcome addition to the Detroit scene and "Bag It" a delightful opening effort. It is to be hoped that Martin, at long last, has found a home.

The number of women in apprenticeship programs registered with the Labor Department rose to 1,800 in 1969, an over-the-year increase of 72 percent. The ranks of female apprentices include plumbers, aircraft mechanics, and even embalmers.

Bill seeks to curb unwanted credit cards

The House of Representatives has approved a bill sponsored by Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) to curb the mass mailing of unsolicited credit cards.

Ford hailed the legislation as a step toward solving a problem that is reaching gigantic proportions.

In a statement on the House Floor, Congressman Ford reminded his colleagues that an estimated $200 million is lost each year through credit card fraud, and that over 200,000 credit cards are stolen each year.

"Most of this theft is facilitated by the mass mailing of unsolicited credit cards," Ford said. "The mail patron does not know that such a card has been forwarded to him. Yet, it is similar to mailing a $100 bill through the mail because many of these cards are sold for that amount on the black market."

The bill passed by the House requires that all unsolicited credit cards be mailed by registered mail, restricted delivery, and return-receipt requested.

"This means," Ford explained, "that credit card issuers will be forced to pay a maximum amount for maximum protection to mail patrons. If unsolicited credit cards are sent in violation of the bill, criminal penalties with fines up to $1,000 per mailing can be imposed."

The congressman pointed out that many of the major credit card firms have recognized the need for legislation to curb growing abuses. A good example of the scope of the problem is shown by the recent creation of new businesses to protect and insure credit card users against loss or fraud.

"These companies, however, cannot help a person whose name appears on a credit card which he did not order, and which is stolen or lost in the mail before it reaches him," Congressman Ford said.

"Since he does not even know the card exists, or that it has been lost, he is not going to notify anyone. The first inkling he has of the problem is when he starts receiving bills for merchandise he never ordered.

"Even though he probably would not have to pay for the goods, he would be put through considerable inconvenience and possibly embarrassment before the matter could be settled. The bill we have passed will prevent such occurrences."

Congressman Ford pointed out that the legislation must be adopted by the Senate and approved by the President before it can become law.

Nature programs available from park authority

Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority naturalists are available this winter season for lectures to school assemblies in the Detroit Metropolitan Area including the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne during each school day from Monday, Nov. 2, through Tuesday, March 30, 1971.

William F. Hopkins, chief naturalist, who said naturalists from Kensington or Stony Creek Metropolitan Parks will visit the schools for only one-half day, but will provide up to three lectures during a visit accompanied by slides or films.

The illustrated lectures concern the woods, fields, water areas and wildlife in southeastern Michigan and are available by advance appointment only.

A 25-minute program designed for youngsters from kindergarten through the second grade features two young raccoons as they explore their park home. There is a selection of five 45-minute programs for grades three through twelve.

The current lectures are entitled "Fascinating Insects", "Life in a Woodlot", "Ecology", "Design for Survival" and "Plants on the Move".

Many schools in southeastern Michigan have already received 1970-71 applications for these free lectures. However, schools which have not yet received prior information, should contact the Nature Program, Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 600 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Michigan 48226, or phone 961-5865.

High school concert choir prepares for new season

Scholarship students of the Belleville High School Concert Choir are returning to school this fall with enriched musical experience after the participation in various music programs during the summer months.

Cynthia Hook, Donna Grzesik, Jacqueline Webb, Evonne Gustin, and Roger Gillespie were recipients of Belleville High School Choir sponsored scholarships.

The accompanist of the Belleville High School Concert Choir, Cynthia Hook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hook, attended a two week session in piano study at the Interlochen Fine Arts Academy near Traverse City.

Cindy is a junior this year and is in her third year as concert choir accompanist.

Edison raises rates for three

The Detroit Edison Co. has been authorized to increase its rates to three of its largest industrial customers it was announced.

The Public Service Commission of the Michigan Department of Commerce, which approved new contracts between the utility and the three industries, said the increase will enable Detroit Edison to earn a more reasonable rate of return on the electric and steam service it provides for the three firms.

Huron Co., of Port Huron, by 11.3 per cent. Wyandotte Chemicals corp., of Wyandotte, will have its rates increased by 10.8 per cent while the Pennsalt Corp., of Wyandotte, formerly Pennsalt Chemical Corp., will pay 5.1 per cent more under its new contract. Detroit Edison's annual revenues from the three firms prior to the rate increases $17.2 million.

Detroit Edison's contracts with the three firms were excluded from the utility's recent general rate case in which the PSC authorized it to increase rates for residential customers by 1.8 per cent.

Detroit Edison was authorized to increase its rates for service to the Port

OVERLAND ROUTE — Sweeping around end, Romulus' John Arrington (37) picks up yardage and a first down against Inkster's Vikings in Friday afternoon's nonleague opener. Arrington provided valuable footage in Romulus' come-from-behind 14-12 opening day victory. The Eagles will try to make it two in a row Friday when they host Wayne Memorial, a loser in its opener to Belleville.

Belleville jolts Wayne

By Mike Hendricks

There is no greater satisfaction for a rookie coach than to see his team get off to an excellent start. And that's what Belleville, under the guidance of head coach Keith Emerson, accomplished Friday night at Wayne Memorial.

The Tigers mauled the Zebras 28-6 to open up their nonleague slate with a victory and to present their new coach with an opening day win.

And, if there is something else Belleville gridders want to do, then it's to handle Robichaud, their next rival, in similar fashion. After all, Robichaud was the last high school in the area where Emerson coached before leaving for the Upper Peninsula.

"It's always gratifying to win the opener," said coach Emerson afterwards. "For an opener, it was a good game for us - but we did make mistakes and we will try to iron them out this week."

Belleville will open up its home schedule at 8 p.m. Friday with a capacity crowd expected to be on hand to watch the battle between the two non-conference rivals.

The Tigers appeared to be in mid-season form as they came off of a 6-6 halftime tie to break the game wide open with three second half touchdowns.

One major factor in the Belleville victory was that the Tigers pressured Wayne into making mistakes. The constant pressure applied by the defense forced Wayne to lose the ball, either by interceptions or through fumbles, four of the eight times they had the ball.

Meanwhile, Belleville rolled up 201 yards on the ground while limiting the Zebras to 56 yards. The Tigers went to the air four times, with quarterback Mike Garland connecting on two for 16 yards. The Wayne passed 17 times, connecting on 9 of his aeriels for 101 yards.

The game wasn't Belleville's until the second half.

The opening kick off left Belleville on their own 32 yard line. With Garrade Pettus running the ball on 13 of the Tiger's first 16 plays the Belleville squad found themselves on their opponent's 16 yard line before they became stranded and gave up the ball.

The Zebras couldn't go anywhere against the Tiger defense and had to punt on fourth down.

Once again the Tiger's were able to force their way down inside the Wayne 20-yard-line, but once again they couldn't score when the Zebra's cornerback Joe Keister picked off a Garland pass.

Once more the Zebra's had to punt and when one of their players was detected in a personal foul the Tigers found themselves on the Wayne 15 yard line with a first down. Two plays later Garland sprinted around the right end to score the Tiger's first touchdown of the 1970 season.

With three minutes left in the first half the Wayne offense put everything together and pushed the Tiger squad back towards their goal. In this drive Zebra quarterback Rick Stevens hit on four consecutive passes for 10, 14, 9 and 15 yards before they began to falter once again.

Then with a fourth down situation and three seconds on the clock, Stevens found Zebra co-captain, Merrill Collins in the end zone waiting for a touch down pass. Collins wasn't disappointed and both teams headed for the locker room with the score knotted up 6 to 6.

The Waynites couldn't do anything right after the half as they fumbled the ball away passed the ball away and helped the Tigers move the ball with their penalties.

In their first series of plays, it took Pettus three tries to carry the Tigers to another six-pointer when he ran it in from the four yard line.

The Tiger's capitalized on their own error in the conversion play when the centers snap went array and kicker Greg Shelton picked up the ball and headed for the end zone for an additional two points.

This was the beginning of the Tiger onslaught as Wayne immediately lost the ball when Tiger Dan Smith stole off a Steven's pass to give Belleville possession once again. The Tigers were on the march with the ball when Wayne's Keister grabbed a second pass from Mike Garland.

Romulus eyes Wayne as 2nd grid victim

Two in a row for Romulus' football team? Could be especially if the Eagles continue with the momentum of the first game that saw coach George Pratt's boys trim nonleague rival, Inkster, 14-12, last Friday.

Next in line for Romulus is Wayne Memorial, a team that dropped its opener to Belleville and is hurting with injuries.

And if coach Pratt pulls off the coup Friday, it will be the first time in these recent years that a Romulus football team has chalked up two wins in a row.

Romulus displayed balance against Inkster.

Eagles' talented backs finally wore the visitors down. Three runners enjoyed a margin of success against the Viking defense as Brent Hamilton, John Arrington and Tony Hoffman ran wild for 63, 57 and 35 yards respectively.

If there is a quarterback problem on the Romulus team it isn't a severe one as both Virgil Smith and Ken McMann operated the backfield well enough to win, which is what counts.

The offensive machine, once it got into gear, grounded out 239 yards while the opponents were limited to 109 yards.

Defensively, Mike Csaszar consistently halted Inkster runners while John Arrington often came through with the big play to stop an Inkster threat.

Inkster scored twice before the Eagles managed to get on the scoreboard. The Vikings touch down came when the Eagle defense broke down after holding the Vikings to a fourth down and 14 yards to go situation. The touchdown play occurred when Viking Louis Harris caught a Daryl Williams pass in the end zone.

Their second money play came the next time the Vikings got hold of the pigskin and Marshall Harris ran the ball in from the four yard line.

The Inksterites missed on both of their conversion attempts which was later to be the margin of defeat for them.

After the Viking's second score, Romulus marched 48 yards in eight plays with Arrington climaxing the drive (Continued on Page 14)

Huron hangs on to win opener

Speaking of ulcers, Huron coach Lee Smeltzer will probably have to take it easy after last Friday night's 9 to 6 triumph over a much heralded Gibraltar Carson squad.

In the last minutes of the game Smeltzer was tortured like no man should be. After his Chiefs had taken a three point lead on quarterback Butch Suemnick's scoring pass to Tom Umin, he had to watch as the visitors came back on a long pass play which did not stop until they reached the Chief's two-yard line.

There was Smeltzer walking the sidelines with his three point lead looking mighty small as the Carlson squad had the ball on the two yard line.

For four plays the coach had to watch the opponents tear into his line.

But, the Huron defense held to card their first win in the Huron conference.

Smeltzer is now recouping from the strain of that goal line stand and he is now preparing his surprising charges for their clash with the Fennville gridders this Friday in an away game to be held at the Lake Michigan coast town.

"I was really pleased with our boys," he admitted. "That goal line stand was a great effort. It would have been very easy for them to have given up, but instead they came up with a whale of a job."

"I was especially happy with the way the boys came from behind to win the game."

Carlson held the lead for all but the final 93 seconds of the game and even those last seconds were not the type where a Huron fan could rest easy and enjoy the victory.

"Our line was shaky the first half. This was their first varsity competition, but in the second half they really played well," Smeltzer commented.

Carlson pretty much dominated the opening half and went into the locker room at halftime with a 6-0 lead.

The second half was a different story however and the Chiefs were telling it their way as they came back and scored a three point field goal from the 25 yard line. Glenn Dregansky accounted for the 3-pointer. He proved equally valuable on the ground as he led the team in rushing with 47 yards.

Umin was also an important part of the win especially in the last touchdown drive in which he caught a 15 yard pass in a third down and 11 yard situation to preserve the drive in addition to scoring the winning touchdown. He left the game with 35 yards rushing, one yard more than his team mate Chuck Imman.

Smeltzer cited Dregansky for his defensive efforts in leading the team with 15 tackles with Dan Clark right behind with 10. Jack Garcia's play also drew praise from the victorious coach.

"All in all it was a good performance for the opening game," Smeltzer noted. "We made some costly mistakes, like the fumble on our nine yard line which set up their first touchdown. We did do well though, we held their best player, Greg Cole to only one catch for nine yards and the rest of the game he was simply frustrated."

"As for Fennville, we don't really know what to expect, they're a long ways away so we don't play the same teams which makes it real hard to compare. When Carlson came down here we knew they were supposed to be good and that they had beaten us last year."

Some odd facts

By TOM MOORADIAN

You just can't believe everything you hear nowadays, can you?

For years, we have been dreaming about "those fabulous lunches served to members of the Fourth Estate who cover the Michigan football games. And, one of the fringe benefits of working every day for a living was, we thought, to take our place among the elite in the Press Box in Ann Arbor and feast upon the goodies they had to offer.

Were we in for a surprise!

If "hot dogs" and coffee are the food of gourmets, then that's what we got — Dann Barkume and myself, when we ventured out to see Arizona shatter Michigan's image last Saturday.

Sure, Michigan won — but the Wolverines are in trouble — you better believe it.

A thing called 'adult spirit'

Heck, Harry Hidenfelter over at Belleville High and Bill Elliott at Wayne Memorial and Bill Finnell at West Senior High are much more generous to their Press when the fellows with the typewriters attend their ball games — they make sure all of us also get pop corn, with our pop and coffee and hot dogs.

Speaking of games, there was more excitement generated on the field between John Glenn and Garden City West than over at Ann Arbor.

And speaking of school spirit — over at West High, that is there appears to be plenty of that. It's adult spirit that is lacking, according to Ervin Hodge, the recently elected president of the West High Booster Club.

"These kids here are wonderful," Hodge points out. "They'll back their teams in almost everything. What we don't have here is 'Adult Spirit,'" he said. "The parents, many of them that is, just don't follow athletics and that's pitiful, especially since we do have an outstanding student body."

Hodge revealed that the Tiger Booster club is even plotting to bring the Lions out to the high school on Feb. 10 to play basketball against the parents and teachers and coach a team made up of coaches and teachers.

Here comes the bands

Can't understand where Wayne High's marching band was Saturday, George. Didn't you guys get an invite to play at Ann Arbor, along with the scores of other high schools who made up the Band Day ceremonies.

I saw Garden City East, West, Livonia, Franklin, Belleville and Cherry Hill — but no Zebras.

And I see that "Whiskey" finally got a pass to attend the Wolverine games.

'Whiskey' finally makes it

"Whiskey" is that cute dog who offered the fans halftime entertainment by rolling the ball across the gridiron with the head. Pretty neat.

He even meandered through the army of Wolverines rushing out of the field for the third quarter.

Would you believe that "Whiskey" at one time had to sneak into the stadium?

FIRE AWAY — Belleville's quarterback Mike Garland (17) fades back to find his receiver as Wayne's Dan Green closes in for a tackle in Friday night's season opener. Belleville's victory had double significance as it also marked the successful debut of head coach Keith Emerson. The Tigers will play their first game at home Friday night when they will host Dearborn Heights Robichaud at 8 p.m.

40-0 is surprise for Schmidt, too

GREEN BAY, Wis. — "We felt we could win, but naturally we didn't think we could win this big," Coach Joe Schmidt said Sunday after his Detroit Lions soundly thrashed the Green Bay Packers, 40-0, in a National Football League season opener.

"Right from the beginning, we know we were going to win," Schmidt said. "You could feel the enthusiasm and the confidence."

"Today's probably the best game we have played in the four years since I've had the ball club," the Detroit coach said.

Packer Coach Phil Bengtson just shook his head.

"We just made every mistake that a football team could make," he said. "We expected to have some of those mistakes with our lack of experience. But we didn't expect to have so many."

One of the plays Bengtson referred to gave Detroit its first touchdown and a 10-1 lead.

After the Lions took the opening kickoff and moved downfield for Erroll Mann's 22-yard field goal, the Packers were stopped cold.

Dale Livingston went back to punt, but the ball didn't get to him until two Lion defenders were an arm's length away. Livingston tried to run, was chased down and Detroit took over on the Green Bay 18. Mel Farr capped the short drive with a one-yard touch-down burst.

"I've been centering since my junior in college," said rookie Cleo Walker of Louisville, who had been sent in on the play.

"I don't cock the ball like other centers. I slide it along the grass. This time the point of the ball dug into the ground and popped out of my hand. I grabbed it and threw it back to Livingston, but it was too late."

Then there was Donny Anderson's fumble that was recovered by Detroit's Mike Lucc. Two plays after the

Romulus Flyers win 2

Romulus Little League fortunes are also improving this year as the Flyers shown strength against a highly-touted Northville squad Sunday afternoon.

Despite a 8-6 varsity loss to Northville, the Flyers soared to victories in both the Junior Varsity and Freshmen groups. The jayvees cashed in on a 14-6 decision while the freshmen turned back their counter-parts 30-16.

Romulus will clash with Livonia in its next series of Western Suburban Little League football. The freshmen will take the field at about 12:30 p.m.

Williams replaces Lewis W. Bodley who is leaving to become Associate General Secretary-Controller of the Cincinnati and Hamilton County, Ohio, Y.M.C.A.

Surprise

Lions had missed a field goal attempt.

This time Detroit added another three points to its rapidly growing lead when Mann split the uprights from the 14.

Livingston, bothered by a strong rush and poor center snaps all afternoon, got off punts of 25, 22, and 20 yards, while Anderson had a 20-yard boot.

"As bad as we were in the first half, it's surprising we weren't further behind than we were," Bengtson said.

Schmidt was a little sympathetic to the Packer problem.

"They're going through the same we went through in 1967 and 1968," he said. "It's a period of readjustment as you bring in new men and replace the older ones."

Carroll Dale, Packer flanker who almost gained as many yards on a reverse as he did with his one reception, put it bluntly.

"That was a good, old fashioned whipping," he said.

Romulus eyes Wayne

by tight roping the sidelines for the final six yards and the Eagles first six points.

The half ended with the visitors leading Romulus by a 12 to 6 count.

The second half saw Romulus pick up where it left off by dominating the show offensively. The highlight of their second half act came when Dan Chapo ended the Eagles 65 yard march to pay dirt by catching a Ken McMann pass for another six pointer.

The winning play came next with Perry Gray taking a McMann pass into the end zone for the two winning points. The game ended with Romulus on top of a 14 to 12 score.

Next week Romulus takes on the Zebras of Wayne Memorial at the Romulus High Field. The Zebras fell victim to Belleville by a 28 to 6 score in their season opener and they will come to Wayne seeking redemption.

..PILE UP — On the bottom of the pile, believe it or not, is Garrade Pettus who crashed over for a Belleville touchdown to give the Tigers an opening game victory against Wayne High. The victory had double significance for the Tigers as it marked the successful return to coach in this area for coach Keith Emerson.

The interruption was shortlived, however, when big Mark Pellecchia fell on a Zebra fumble. With the ball back in Belleville's hands, Garland took his team down to the Wayne 10 yard line in four quick plays where he scampered in for the third Tiger touchdown.

Gary Krajewski put an end to Wayne's final threat picking off a Zebra pass and taking it back to the opponents 16 yard line where Pettus promptly ran it in for his second score of the day.

Pettus also bulled over from the two yard line for a two point conversion to give the Tigers their 28th point which ended the game.

After the game, Emerson cited the performances of Alan Vandecar, Dave Yocum Pellecchia, Victor and Tony Ogletree, Dave Remus and John Tompson for playing heads up football.

As for Pettus, "All I can say is that he is an exceptional athlete he has fantastic balance and great second effort. Despite the fact that they were keying on him through out the game he carried us all the way. With him and Remus in the back-field there is no way they were going to stop our running attack."

New Boston Rotary hears district governor

Members of the New Boston Rotary Club and guests hosted H. William (Bill) Ives, governor of Rotary District 640 at the club's Sept. 16 dinner-meeting.

Attendance at the meeting was "exceptional" with several fellow visiting Rotarians from neighboring clubs also present to meet and hear the governor.

Ives, who had been a member of the Detroit Rotary Club for 17 years, recently attended a meeting of Rotary Governors at Lake Placid, New York, where the Rotarians' theme for 1970-71 was announced. That theme is, "Bridge the Gaps."

Governor Ives gave a brief summary of his responsibilities as district governor. He announced that the New Boston Rotary Club was his 23rd club he has visited since taking over his office July 1.

District 640 has 44 clubs in Michigan and Ontario which has a total membership of 2,700 active members.

Ives in his presentation said, "Rotary International is charged with 'bridging the gaps' on several issues. Environmental improvement is something each Rotarian can do to lessen pollution in each community.

He cited Dearborn Rotary Club with 132 members of which 15 members undertook the project of cleaning three-quarters of a mile bank of the Rouge River. The 15 worked closely with other organizations who gave them assistance.

On Aug. 15, they removed three dump truck loads of debris.

"This what I mean when I say we can all get involved and help reduce pollution. Here's an opportunity to help change attitude by working with the young folks. You give them the feeling adults do care. Working with other groups helps bond friendships. This project was small, but important."

Another area of concern should be in International Service said Governor Ives. Scholarships are available for those who qualify as good ambassadors on international understanding.

Ives strongly believes for Rotarians to be strong members of Rotary International, they should possess the following:

Competence, each member is capable and excellent in his vocation.

Concern, have mutual interests and be concerned with your community and what happens there.

Creativity, change with the time, programs over five years old need to be revised. Rotary must stay current. "Communicate with the people in the community we serve, Rotary is a service club, not to be served."

Commitment, each Rotarian needs to sacrifice by being involved and not withholding his service for the betterment of society.

The New Boston Rotary Club members reported that they enjoyed Governor Ives visit and address.

at-arms; Steve Horvath, club vice president; Steve Rakotz, president; Robert Carey, secretary; Lee Truax, treasurer; and Bill Ives.

Democratic headquarters open in Belleville

An afternoon open house signaled the opening of the Van Buren Democratic Headquarters last week.

Approximately thirty guests joined the Democratic candidates at the headquarters, located at Liberty and Main St., in Belleville, to kickoff the campaign for township offices.

The campaign chairman, Mrs. Helen Gentle, informed everyone of the telephone number (697-4911) and the office hours (3 to 8:30).

Mrs. Gentle explained that, although the headquarters will be used for many of the campaign committee meetings, the candidates will still be available for home gatherings and "coffees".

For information about having a meeting in your home with any, or all of the Democratic candidates, call the headquarters (697-4911).

The Democratic candidates have prepared statements outlining their plans for the future of Van Buren Township and their opinions on the major issues concerning the citizens of the township.

These issues include trailer parks, city status, multiple housing, garbage dumps, and recreation facilities.

Copies of these papers are obtainable by calling or stopping by the Democratic headquarters.

Rodney Bly, candidate for supervisor, explained that because the "Bly Slate" is now a coalition of new political personalities and experienced incumbents, we can truly offer the citizens of Van Buren Township a "Government for the People".

"Although I have personally invited Mrs. Erma J. Payne, candidate for clerk, to join the rest of the Democratic candidates she has refused to become involved with us," Bly stated.

It is the opinion of the Democratic Campaign Committee that because the voters in Van Buren Township chose Mrs. Payne to run with the other candidates in the November election, she now has an obligation to actively seek the office of clerk.

The committee wishes to apologize for Mrs. Payne's attitude, and hope that she will come to realize that pulling together is the Democratic way.

The Democratic Bly Slate would, like to, remind everyone that Oct. 2 is the last day you can register to vote in the general election Nov. 3.

The need for a government that will listen to the people is evident. The Democratic Bly Slate intends to do just that. Don't forget to vote Nov. 3.

"WELL HELLO THERE!" was the surprise salutation of "Pokey the Clown" at Saturday's carnival at the Romulus Action Center, 35351 Beverly Rd. Derrick Martin, 4, shaking hands with "Pokey" was just one of many children entertained at the event sponsored by citizens and teenagers from Livonia.

Ford and Faust to attend groundbreaking

U.S. Congressman William D. Ford and State Senator William Faust will be special guests at ground breaking ceremonies of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority's new central laundry facility on Saturday morning, Oct. 10, at 11 a.m.

The general public, all PCHA board members and PCHA hospital personnel are invited to attend this ceremony at the laundry site, adjacent to the Authority's Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, corner of Annapolis and Venoy Rds.

Viewed by PCHA administrative officials as a major step in their continuous battle against soaring hospital costs, this new laundry building and equipment will represent an investment of approximately $1,960,000. The authority has received a $2,500,000 Federal grant of Hill-Burton funds to assist with the Project.

The new facility will be capable of handling 3,400 pounds of laundry per hour, which can be greatly expanded and will serve the joint needs of the four PCHA hospitals presently totaling 1,100 beds.

Provision has been made for increased use of the facilities additional hospitals (including the new Taylor unit) or hospital additions to accommodate up to 5,000 pounds of laundry per hour.

Actual construction in the form of site clearing operations got underway Aug. 25. A tentative completion date is set for mid-spring of '71.

The innovative 40,000 square foot laundry is designed by Harley Ellington Associates, Inc., Southfield-based architects and engineers, in cooperation with the Victor Kramer Company, institution laundry and line consultants of New York. Its unique design results from the desire of PCHA and the Kramer company to develop the advantages of a comparatively new laundry process in this country known as the continuous flow system and the building itself is the first in the U.S. to be designed specifically for this system.

dardized carts and is placed, still in the closed bags, on a monorail conveyor for delivery to a pre-select washing machine feed hopper to be automatically fed into the washing machine as desired.

The Poensgen washing unit is an 85-foot continuous machine with a water press extractor and high mounted conditioner in which the laundry terminates at a sorting table fluffed out for easy sorting.

The delivery carts meanwhile have gone through a cart washer to be sanitized and are now available to pick up the clean laundry for return to the hospital in a truck which itself has been sanitized.

Design of the laundry building into separate clean and dirty linen rooms meets the problems caused by the severe type of soiling of hospital linen and makes possible linen that is almost aseptically clean to avoid cross infection.

Aid in the clean side is filtered to almost operating room standards. Also, dirty linen is fed into machines on the soiled side of the building and comes out on the clean side washed and practically dried without handling by personnel. Linen sorting is done after washing, instead before washing, thus reducing health hazards.

The building, in addition to the process areas, contains an inspection room, sewing room, new linen storage room, repair and maintenance shop, the usual employee facilities and offices for the operation.

Because of the large amounts of steam and hot water required, additional boiler facilities and water softening equipment was required. These were added to the existing hospital boiler house.

PCHA currently operates two laundries, one at Annapolis Hospital and another at Outer Drive Hospital. These operations will be discontinued with the completion of the central laundry.

Personnel employed at these two units will be absorbed in the staffing of the new facility, or will be offered other positions in Authority hospitals.

Believe it or not.

A hermit crab owned by a member of the third grade class at the Denton Elementary School responds to a command to come out of its shell.

But only when this command is given by Barbara Burnette, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Devuan Burnette of 6483 Denton Rd., owner of the "pet" crab.

The demonstration of the crab's obedience was given in the third grade classroom in the presence of the classroom teacher and School Principal William Chizmar.

The crab answers to the name of "George". He came originally from the Chesapeake Bay on the eastern coast of the United States. Barbara brought it home last week and took her "pet" to school.

Principal Chizmar said after Barbara called to "George" to come out of his shell, "I wouldn't believe it if it hadn't seen it with my own eyes. School Nurse, Miss Marge Lingenfelter said that she thought it "was incredible."

The third grade teacher, Miss Susan Zuckerman, seized the opportunity to use this demonstration as a learning experience.

Each member of the class was asked to write a theme about George. The class selected the four best themes.

The Denton school staff then chose the winning theme written by Thomas McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory McDonald of 6445 Denton Rd., entitled "A Shy Crab." It follows:

"George is a hermit crab. He lives inside a snail shell. Barbara, the owner of George, is a third grader at Denton

Elementary School. George originally came from the Chesapeake Bay on the eastern coast of the United States. George lives in a small cage made of wire screen. He eats crackers, lettuce, fruit and bread.

"George sleeps on the side his cage. He is the nicest crab I've ever met."

Area PTA council meets Tuesday

The Romulus Area PTA Council will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 29, at the Board of Education Office, 36540 Grant Rd., Romulus.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will include a tour of the new office.

Also the PTA Council is comprised of representatives from all local PTA units of the district. The first meeting will establish direction that the council will pursue for the year.

Based upon suggestions from local units, a budget will be prepared to present at October's council meeting.

Each month the group meets at a different school facility with that PTA or official acting as host for the meeting. This provides an opportunity for representatives to become familiar with other areas and schools of the district.

Time will be provided at the first meeting for local units to exchange ideas about specific problems they may be encountering.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

WITNESS! Let's think about the word, not necessarily in a religious sense, but from an earthly view of human reaction. All of us witness things every day. We see varying circumstances, situations and attitudes all around us, both good and bad.

As we witness these things in other people, wouldn't it be a good idea for us to ponder what other people see or witness in us? Each of us individually sets a standard of behavior, thought and expression linked to ourselves. In doing this, we naturally provide a scene or knowledge for others to witness. The things we do and the things we say cause people to talk about us favorably or gossip about us unfavorably.

We create our own image, good or bad. We control the destinies of our image in the minds and thoughts of others. When we can be rightfully proud of what others witness in us, we gain an inner gladness that automatically portrays a better, more likeable image.

Citizens discuss police question

The Citizens Group for the Retention and Improvement of the Romulus Police Department met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sabich last Sunday.

The meeting was called to discuss the necessity for further action by the group. The Citizens Group will strive to continue informing the people of Romulus, to the facts concerning the City of Romulus' intent with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

The group's membership now totals in excess of 50 "concerned" citizens.

In attendance at this meeting was a representative from the Board of Directors of the Homeowners Association of Romulus, informing the members what the association plans to do in the next few weeks concerning this problem.

The Association he said, will present a public forum on the issue of the Romulus Police Department. Two representatives from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department (A.F.) Hideman, Director, executive division of the Sheriff's office; and a lawyer will speak for the sheriff's department.

On behalf of the Romulus Police Department two representatives from the Romulus Police Association were asked to be speaker as well.

However, the Citizens Group declared that this discussion at the forum would not be fair or equitable because of the differences of the quality of speakers one side would have as opposed to the other.

On one hand the sheriff's office would have present polished, well versed, orators experienced at speaking before large crowds, where the Romulus Police Association speakers would be handicapped in not having those speakers with the experience of speaking before large groups, nor speakers trained in the art of speaking.

Neither does the Police Association have all the necessary information available to them such as the proposed contract, or the facts and figures as does the administration and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

On this issue, the representative of the Homeowner Association agreed that the points of the group were well taken and he would relate this information back to the full membership of the Board of Directors.

The Citizens Group discussed further the means and possibilities of having representative speakers speak before as many civic organizations as possible so as to inform as many people of this community of what has, and is, occurring.

In this connection, the Romulus Jaycees will be approached to allow the Citizens' Group to speak at their regular meeting.

In addition, the Group has decided to attempt a house to house canvass of the major subdivisions to further relate the information to the people of Romulus.

The Citizens for the Retention and improvement of the Romulus Police Department will continue to meet, continue to bring more and more people to get them involved and to bring pressure to the Administration so they will not be overlooked or ignored.

The Citizens Group feels that the present administration, under Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael, has not truly treated the people of this community fairly or equally. They feel that he has not presented all the facts in their true light or nature and that he has not, in the beginning, kept a spokesman faith with the people who elected him to the office that he holds, a spokesman said.

For those citizens of Romulus who desire to have more information, and to become actively involved please call one of the following telephone numbers — 941-0558, 941-2905, 941-5677 and 729-3406.

If anyone desires to have a large group discussion, The Citizens Group would make available, at all times, speakers and presentations as well.

Steve Buck is pride of Scout Troop 830

When Denver Profit, leader of Boy Scout Troop 830, began to review the summer activities of the troop, he kept coming back to one occurrence that was really outstanding.

Each month they had gone on a camp out: Island Lake, Metropolitan Park, Rifle River (where they made a 50-mile canoe trip). This month they are going to the D Bar A, a Scout Ranch near Lapeer, and next month the troop will be competing in a tent city at Kensington Park.

All these events are and have been pretty exciting, everyone getting dumped into the water during the canoe trip, for instance.

But the one event that really stands out in Profit's mind, and lots of others' too, had to do with Scout Steve Buck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Buck of Beverly Rd.

It happened in June, during a family camp-out at Metropolitan Park. The boys had all gone into the pool for a swim, they had been working on swimming awards and most were fairly adept in the water.

Steve Buck was in the group of swimmers, and anyone who knows Steve understands that he always keeps an eye on the action. He's what you might call an "observer of the scene."

What he observed this time was a swimmer who, having dived from too high a board had been stunned by the impact with the water. Steve hailed the lifeguard and indicated the position of the swimmer, expecting the guard to jump in and rescue the boy.

Instead, perhaps according to the Lifeguards' Manual of Conduct, the guard went for the pole. That was just too much for Steve, who dived into the water brought the boy to the surface and assisted him the edge of the pool.

Steve was everyone's hero that afternoon and still is. Everyone's except the lifeguard, who was somewhat less than pleased by Steve's quick action, contemplating perhaps a possibility of two swimmers in trouble instead of one.

But it all worked out fine; Profit and his assistant leader Don Smith are very proud of Steve, as they are of all the boys, many of whom have been with them in scouting since they were Cubs.

They all have big plans for the future and high expectations for Steve Buck.

Resolve sibling rivalry

As long as a child doesn't emerge with a black eye, quarreling or rivalry among children should be considered normal, according to Gail Imig, family living education program leader with Michigan State University.

"Many of the displays of rivalry and jealousy and actual squabbles help children clarify their individuality. Small disagreements also give them practice in resolving interpersonal conflicts, and introduce them to the rights of others."

However, Mrs. Imig cautioned, a child's display of temper and jealousy requires some firm controls by parents.

Take mild squabbles in your stride. Pay little or no attention to them, whether they are physical or verbal. If the squabbles continue, you can often divert the children's attention by suggesting other activities.

"Watch out for the 'teasee' as well as the 'teaser,'" Mrs. Imig said. "The child being teased could very well have started the whole thing. Younger children are often the culprits, because they think their age will protect them."

Let your child see the advantages and privileges of his particular position in the family — boy or girl, oldest, youngest, or in the middle, Mrs. Imig suggested.

"Don't search for the cause of the aggression at the moment of the friction. Ease the situation by separating the children if necessary, and then do the detective work later."

A study of crime among freshmen and sophomores are far more apt to steal stuff than juniors and seniors...The historical record shows George Washington wanted all U.S. presidents, including himself to be addressed as His Mightiness... It has been found those youngsters who still horse around with hula hoops are most skillful in their professor performance when they are exceedingly tired.

Personal note - Am asked if I ever kept a diary. Tried to Once or twice. As a youngster. But not for long. Nobody tells the truth in a diary. Recall the account of the elderly Puritan minister? He compiled 27 volumes of his personal journals. Mostly they held the lofty reflections of a saintly outlook. However, the pages were frequently footnoted with the initials "T.F." And it wasn't until years later his heirs discovered in other of his papers that those letters meant "Tempted" and "Fell."

Average number of players in high school bands is 40, average age of said players is 15...Brown sugar is never made from beets, never ever...A feminine client in Arkansas says she knows a Mr. and Mrs. Carr who named their little boy Ford, ho ho...Magnetic compass of the Chinese always points south...Young lady, if you're 24 and single, chances run one in five you'll marry within the next 12 months.

Love and war - "When I was going with the girl who later was to become my wife, I frequently ate dinner at her apartment," writes a Georgia gentleman. "It was the third time I ate her salad that I knew she was the girl for me. It wasn't different every time just good. It was consistent. A girl whose salad turns out different every time is a scatterbrain. But if her salads are always the same, she's a good logical reasonable woman. My old man believed that, and so do I."

Customer service - Q. "Which got started first in this country, the the Girl Scouts or the Camp Fire Girls?" A. The Girl Scouts. They beat the Camp Fire Girls with their organizational announcement by five days. In March of 1912. It might be noted those Scouts originally called themselves the Girl Guides.

So you say your dad ridicules your mustache, young fellow? Think nothing of it. You know what old Charles Dickens said about mustaches: "They are glorious, glorious! Without them life would be a blank!"...Any poet who gets impatient with his performance ought not. "Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard" has 128 lines. But it took Thomas Gray eight years to finish it. That's not much better than one line every 23 days.

General Tendencies: You have a big chance now to charm others and get your emotional problems adjusted. Make a big point to do your marketing and whatever merchandising you have to do whether it be wares, products or ideas for most everyone is in a receptive mood and willing to listen.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Finding out what kin expect of you is wise since you can then have far more harmonious relations at home. Relaxing or entertaining at home is then possible in the evening. Make this a happy day.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Start regular routines early but make sure you use a more modern method for greater efficiency. Do some work on that hobby you like a great deal. Don't neglect to pay important bill.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Discuss with practical people your most vital problems and gain their assistance to solve them wisely. Being conscious of your wants and needs is wise. Planning cleverly does the trick.

Moon children (June 22 to July 21) Amusing and pleasing persons you admire is good now, since they are in need of good humor. Accept an invitation that is extended. Surprise them with a thoughtful gift.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) During spare time handle those little matters you have been putting aside. Evening is particularly fine for the romantic side of life. Put your best foot forward with person you like so much.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan today how you can repay social obligations you have been meaning to do for some time. A personal desire can be attained thereby. Dress in a most charming fashion and show your finest attributes.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) This is the day when you are able to get bigwig to support plan you have that is most worthwhile. New mechanisms will do the trick where progress is concerned. Invest in the right ones.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Find the right activity that will make the future infinitely more successful than the present. Talk over ideas you have with experts. Steer clear of time-wasters.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to delve into any governmental or other duties that are important to your welfare. Showing more cooperation where loved one is concerned is a wise idea. Stop being so indifferent.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you discuss policy matters with a partner, you can remove misunderstandings. Bring problem out into the open. It is the only way in which it can be solved properly.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you plan your time well, you are able to do any work ahead of you with both efficiency and good cheer. Co-workers are more cooperative. Take up some new hobby tonight that is a challenge to you.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Step out of those dull routines and into something both interesting and lucrative. Take in some delightful recreation. Associate is more willing to go along with your ideas. Accept help willingly.

If your child is born today...he or she will be one of those very sensitive young people who needs encouragement when the going is a bit rough. As parents you should teach early to stand on own two feet, and stand up for own rights. This is true in business and private matters. There is great ability to please the masses, whether it be with products or politics. Higher education important here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.

Across the road the yellow-green willows

Greyhound opens new bus terminal

Greyhound opened a new terminal in Ypsilanti Sept. 20 as part of its national terminal improvement program.

Located at 317 W. Cross St., the terminal is downtown near Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Ruth Simpson, Greyhound's Ypsilanti community representative, said the new bus center "is located in a former business building. And it has been completely remodeled for the opening."

Mrs. Simpson said the new terminal "is located near the center of town and can be easily reached from all areas of the community."

Ypsilanti's new bus center also has offstreet passenger boarding gates. Free parking is available to pick up and drop off travelers.

The exterior improvements, she added, include new brickwork, installation of special lighting and painting. Inside, bright colors and mahogany wall paneling will greet travelers.

A complete line of Greyhound services will be offered at the new bus center, she added.

"This includes Greyhound's package express service for shippers and receivers of packages, bus charters for groups, tours and tickets."

The bus line offers service to Detroit, Chicago, Ann Arbor, South Bend and Battle Creek from Ypsilanti.

Driving school is planned

Police car driving instructors from 13 police departments in Wayne county will receive 32 hours of training under the supervision of Michigan State Police officers during the week of Sept. 21 at Fort Custer, Battle Creek.

This is the first such school scheduled for other law enforcement agencies by the State Police who have been training their own patrol officers at the Fort Custer facilities in recent years.

Objective of the instructor training is to orient the 17 officer trainees involved so that they may in turn teach patrol driving to men in their own departments.

Departments sending from one to three officers to the school include Detroit, Hamtramck, Livonia, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Wayne county, sheriff's road patrol, Redford township Southgate, Trenton, Lincoln Park, Wyandotte, Taylor, and Highland Park.

Banker is elected

Gerald Warren, vice president-marketing of the National Bank of Detroit, has been elected to a one-year term as chairman of the Wayne County Planning Commission by his fellow commissioners.

Robert Keith Archer, Dearborn parks and recreation director, was elected vice chairman and Detroit attorney Joseph B. Evanski was elected secretary. The Commission has 11 members.

Schools hold meeting

The 22nd Annual Convention of the Michigan Association of School Boards is being held at the Civic Auditorium, Grand Rapids, Mich.

The convention opened Tuesday with a Delegate Assembly scheduled for 7:30 p.m. and will run through Thursday, Sept. 24.

Dr. Norman Weinheimer, executive director of Michigan Association of School Boards will give the keynote address at the first General Session today at 10 a.m.

Guest speakers at the other General Sessions include Governor William G. Milliken, Senator Sander Levin, Dr. George Ewen, President, National School Boards Association, and Dr. William Pierce, Deputy Superintendent, Department of Education.

Dr. T.H. Bell Acting Commissioner, U.S. Office of Education, will be the speaker at the Banquet to be held at 6 p.m., on Thursday.

The Battle Creek Central High School capella Choir will provide music at the banquet.

Dr. W. Edward Dewey of Battle Creek, president of the Michigan Association of School Boards, will preside at the convention.

House to open doors

The "house full of hope" established by a Detroit church for graduates of the Wayne County Child development Center will officially open its doors on Sunday, Sept. 27.

An open house will be held from 3-9 p.m. to show off the renovating job done by members of the Boulevard United Church of Christ, 12929 Joy Rd.

The 14-bedroom brick house at E. Grand Boulevard will serve as a halfway house for youths after they complete training at the county facility. They will live there while holding jobs in the area.

In an effort to inspire similar direct action, the church congregation bought the house, with the County Board of Commissioners agreeing to pay a married couple to live there as resident advisors.

"We've put in over 1,000 hours of work getting the place into shape," said Mrs. Leona Riebling, church member who originated the idea.

City, county and religious leaders are among those invited to the open house.

ROMULUS COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT AUDIT

ROMULUS, MICHIGAN

Board of Education
Romulus Community Schools
Romulus, Michigan

To the Board of Education:

We have examined the balance sheets and related statements of revenue and expenditures of the Romulus Community Schools for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1970. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements of the various funds present fairly the financial position of the Romulus Community Schools at June 30, 1970, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted school accounting principles applied on a consistent basis.

Respectfully submitted,

Chairman listens to demands

Wayne County Board Chairman Albert J. Zak has asked two county departments to consider 13 demands submitted by a black group called the Ad Hoc Construction Coalition.

The group demanded that 30 percent of county jobs at all levels be filled by blacks, that county contracts be awarded to black-owned businesses and that one-third of all county funds be deposited in black financial institutions.

Programs to recruit and upgrade black employees were also demanded.

Thus the problems of feeding and nesting that cause some species of birds to travel thousands of miles are solved much more easily by others.

schedules are as follows:

Wednesday - Location:
College Park Trailer Court,
51074 Mott Rd., Belleville, 482-
5286. Time: 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"But nobody — nobody at all — explains to prospective draftees just what their choices are. Nobody gives them the whole picture. That is what we propose to do with the Draft Information Service which is, we believe, unique in this area."

Roberge worked with associate teen directors Claude Elliott and John Hammang in setting up this new service, which began operation in mid-September. The Detroit Archdiocesan School System is recommending the service to its high schools. Colleges and other high schools are invited to make use of this resource.

Further information may be obtained by calling the CYO Youth Leadership Division, 963-7172.

"We cannot undertake individual counseling," says Elliott. "That is not our purpose, but we can tell you where counseling is available. We are working to get community people involved. There is a tremendous educational job to be done if young men are to have a fair chance to plan their own lives."

Hammang fears that many young men are swept into military service without any clear understanding of what is happening to them, or why.

"A man needs a full year to explore all the complexities of the draft and its alternatives," he declares. "This is one of the most important decisions a young man will make. Yet, in my opinion, not one percent of today's draftees have all the information they need to make an intelligent choice."

Written inquiries about the CYO Draft Service should be sent to CYO Youth Leadership Division, 305 Michigan Ave., Detroit, Michigan 48226.
